

N. Neville Reid, not individually, but solely as the Court-appointed receiver (the “Receiver”) for the Estate of Defendant Northridge Holdings, Ltd. and its related entities and affiliates named in that certain Order Appointing Receiver [Dkt. Nos. 22, 108] (collectively, the “Receivership Entities” and the assets thereof the “Receivership Assets”), having filed his Motion for Order (1) Fixing Claims Bar Date (2) Approving Claims Procedures and Claims Forms; (3) Approving Notices; and (4) Approving the Pooling of Receivership Entities’ Assets for Distribution Purposes [Dkt. 169] (the “Motion”), through counsel, hereby files this omnibus response (the “Response”) to the (i) Objection of Cornelia Mueller filed in opposition to the Motion [Dkt. 179] (the “CM Objection”) and (ii) letter to the Court written by Mr. Robert J. Stefan, an investor (“Mr. Stefan”), expressing his objection to the Motion for the reasons stated therein (the “Stefan Objection,” appended hereto as Exhibit A)¹. In support of his Response, the

¹ Mr. Stefan did not file and serve a formal objection to the Motion in the conventional manner, but for efficiency the Receiver will treat the Stefan Letter as an objection to the Motion.

Receiver states as follows:

INTRODUCTION

1. In summary, the Motion sought to establish a bar date, claims procedures and notices, a method to consider claims (on a cash-in/cash-out basis) and pooling of assets to distribute to allowed claims (pursuant to a subsequent Court-approved distribution plan). The Motion was designed to accelerate the priority objective of getting the net liquidation proceeds of the Receiver's sales of Receivership Assets to the victims as soon as practicable, with minimal delay or complexity, thereby reducing their understandable fear and anxiety, especially as an intervening pandemic has heightened these concerns. Only two objections were filed.

2. With respect to the CM Objection, Mrs. Mueller argues that the relief requested in the Motion may disqualify the claim she files based solely on the fact of being married to Glenn Mueller. That objection has been resolved by, in summary, making it clear in a revised proposed order that Mrs. Mueller may file a claim and that such claim is subject to allowance/objection the same as any other claim.²

3. With respect to the Stefan Objection, Mr. Stefan admits to the extensive commingling underpinning the pooled approach to claim analysis and distributions proposed in the Motion. Nevertheless, Mr. Stefan seeks to inject significant cost and delay into the administration of this case by requiring the Receiver to undertake the herculean, impractical and extremely costly task of “unscrambling the egg” – that is, attempting to identify when (if ever) the Ponzi scheme herein might not have been a Ponzi scheme, and what percentage of the monies historically received by investors (if any) did not come from other investors. As more fully set forth below, this costly and time consuming effort is wholly unmerited under the circumstances and the Receiver has more than satisfied the legal requirements in setting forth facts that support the relief requested in the Motion. Put simply, the victims should not be subjected to the delay and costs that would necessarily ensue from granting the Stefan Objection and adopting an alternative process that would not guarantee them (as a whole) any greater net return than would result from the straightforward process proposed by the Motion. They deserve better than that after what they have been through. The Stefan Objection remains pending despite extensive dialogue by the Receiver and his team with Mr. Stefan.

² A revised Proposed Order (the “Approval Order”) is attached hereto as Exhibit B. A redline showing the changes made to the Order to in part satisfy the CM Objection is attached hereto as Exhibit C.

4. The Stefan Objection should be overruled in its entirety and the Approval Order entered so that the Receiver can promptly complete the administration of this estate for the benefit of the victims.

DETAILED RESPONSES

A. Resolution of CM Objection

5. Cornelia Mueller objected to the Motion insofar as the proposed proof of claim process requires an investor to represent to the Receiver that none of the invested funds originated from the Mueller family members (Motion, ¶61). Ms. Mueller requested an exception to that representation for claims filed by the Mueller family, because those invested funds would have originated from them.

6. Ms. Mueller has agreed to withdraw her objection in exchange for the insertion of the following agreed language (the “Agreed Language”) in the relevant claims process documents: “Notwithstanding anything else to the contrary, Glenn Mueller or any of Mr. Mueller’s family or any entity owned or controlled by Mr. Mueller or any of Mr. Mueller’s family may file a proof of claim without making the foregoing representations (a) and (b), and any such claim(s) will be subject to objection as any other claim filed against the Receivership Estate.” See

Exs. B and C at ¶ 23.

B. Response to Stefan Objection

7. As explained in the Motion and the attendant sworn declaration of AlixPartners which extensively reviewed the books and records of the Receivership Entities, the Receivership Entities extensively commingled their financial affairs during the history of their operations, engaging in (inter alia) over 13,500 intercompany transactions in the nearly quarter century period between 1995 and 2019. (Motion, ¶¶65-70; O'Connor Declaration, Ex. E to Motion, ¶¶12-30). Such extensive commingling is one of the cardinal factors relied on by courts to approve a “cash in/cash out” approach to valuing investor claims, and allowing investors to participate in proceeds of the estate on a pooled basis as proposed in the Motion, instead of requiring the receiver to attempt to disaggregate the extensively commingled transactions. (See cases cited in Motion, ¶¶17, 68).

8. Mr. Stefan admits that extensive commingling occurred among the Receivership Entities, but seeks a different process be employed.³ However, Mr. Stefan cites no case law, and advances no practical arguments, in support of his view that the claims allowance process proposed in the Motion (and hence the distributions that would ensue) should nonetheless be delayed significantly in order to send AlixPartners on an expedition to discover when the Receivership Entities' operations may have first become a Ponzi scheme (if ever) since their inception. AlixPartners has reviewed the Stefan Objection and advised the Receiver that attempting to pinpoint a theoretical “start date” to the Ponzi scheme, and isolating alleged non-Ponzi scheme revenue (and investor distributions) from Ponzi scheme revenue (and investor distributions) as Mr. Stefan proposes, would be extremely costly and time consuming, and rife with uncertainty, for at least the following reasons:

³ Mr. Stefan's Objection states, in pertinent part, as follows: “My experience as an investment banker also allows me to fully appreciate the gravity of the forensic accountants' assessment (relied on by the Receiver) that Mr. Mueller's “massive commingling of funds received from the various investors and from limited partners. I accept the Receiver's argument that, given the massive commingling, all the investors and limited partners investments should be aggregated, given the facts that are available for review.” (Stefan Objection, pp.1-2).

- a. In general, the Receivership Entities were simply not administered separately, but as a combined whole, consistent with a Ponzi scheme characterization;
- b. The five investment Receivership Entities (Unity, Eastridge, Brookstone, Southridge and Guardian) that received over $40 million from investor funds were all losing money because they received no interest or income on funds transferred to Northridge Holdings;
- c. There were 70 general ledgers for the Receivership Entities, and of the 13,500 intercompany transactions recorded, none had corresponding legal documents detailing the payment terms going on between the entities (making it further difficult to accurately allocate profit and loss among the entities); and
- d. The information needed to confidently categorize certificate investors separately from limited partnership investors is sketchy and unreliable, at best (thus, investment funds for a certificate investor could end up in a limited partnership investment, and vice-versa).

5. There is no evidence that, at the end of such an additional and expensive investigation, the investors as whole would be any better off, financially, than they would be if the substantial costs of de-commingling the historical transactions of the Receivership Entities were avoided and the Approval Order entered. The Receiver also notes that, under the claims procedures outlined in the Motion, every investor, including Mr. Stefan, would have the right to contest any initial determination made by the Receiver of their claim by filing a proof of claim. Additionally, the Motion does not seek to impact any defenses that any potential defendant (e.g., net-winner) might assert to any claim asserted by the Receiver (i.e., all of Mr. Stefan's and all other parties' defenses are preserved). Thus, the Motion does not seek to treat Mr. Stefan differently or prejudicially compared to how other investors would be treated.

6. The Receiver's team, particularly AlixPartners, has invested substantial time and effort to enable the Receiver to prepare the calculation of claims and thereafter make distributions to eager investors as soon as practicable. The Stefan Objection would in effect require a restart of the case to square one in that regard, on the mere assumption, without proof or legal authority, that non-Ponzi scheme cash flow can be easily and inexpensively identified and distinguished from Ponzi-scheme cash flow. There is no compelling equitable or practical reason to go down that road, and the Stefan Objection should accordingly be overruled and the Approval Order entered.

WHEREFORE, the Receiver requests that the Stefan Objection be overruled and the Motion granted, subject to the insertion of the Agreed Language resolving the CM Objection.

Case No.: 1:19-cv-05957

Your Honor:

I am writing this letter to you as the holder, along with my wife, of a Master Promissory Note from Amberwood Holdings. I am also the Trustee for the William E. Archer and Dorothy N. Archer Trusts which are the holders of Notes from Amberwood Holdings.

The purpose of this letter is to draw your attention to two very important factors that exist in the situation of Northridge Holdings and its affiliated entities that have not, in my reading of the Receiver's Motion, filed 8/13/20, been addressed. These factors bear significantly upon your decision to treat all investors and limited partners on a "net investment" basis.

Before I present these two factors, let me first state my background and qualifications to comment on the matters that are before you. First, I was one of the earliest investors with Glenn Mueller beginning in 1981. In many of these early investments I contributed (as a limited partner) the majority (if not, the entirety) of the capital used to acquire and improve the residential rental properties that were managed, improved, and subsequently sold by Mr. Mueller. For almost twenty years, I monitored Mr. Mueller's performance on every such transaction. He consistently provided me with annualized rates of return in excess of 20%. These returns were not returns from other investors, i.e., from a Ponzi-type scheme. The returns came from the proceeds of the sale of the property to bona fide purchasers paying cash at closing. I make these statements as a financial professional. During the 1980s and into the 1990s, I was a senior investment banker with Kidder, Peabody & Co. and a founding shareholder of Vector Securities International, which specialized in the financing of early stage biotechnology and medical device companies. I also earned a Masters in Management degree from Northwestern University. I mention my professional background and education to assure you that I have expertise in understanding financial statements, cash flows and the calculation of investment returns.

My experience as an investment banker also allows me to fully appreciate the gravity of the forensic accountants' assessment (relied upon by the Receiver) that Mr. Mueller's "massive commingling" of funds received from the various investors and from limited partners. I accept the Receiver's argument that, given the massive commingling, all the investors and limited partners investments should be aggregated, given the facts that are available for review.

With all due respect, however, there are two factors that should be considered before you grant a ruling which treats all investors and limited partners on a net investment basis. First, there should be an analysis of the overall cash flows of Northridge and its affiliated entities to determine the percentage of total cash flows which were derived from Ponzi-type activities versus the total cash flow from normal rental operations. Northridge is not the typical Ponzi scheme in that it appears Mr. Mueller did invest the majority of incoming funds into the various properties which subsequently generated higher rents and cash flows. Yet, under the net investment approach, all cash returns to any investor or limited partner would be treated as coming from another investor through a Ponzi-type scheme. This might be true of a typical Ponzi scheme, where the perpetrator absconds with investor money, but not in the case of Northridge. In aggregate, it should be possible to determine what percentage of the aggregate cash received by investors or limited partners in a given year came from Ponzi-type activity. To fail to take into account the cash flows generated by operations would unduly penalize investors and limited partners particularly over the long-term. Although they received cash, they did not take money from subsequent investors to the extent that the rental properties were also generating cash. It should be possible to determine for any year, in the aggregate, that a certain percentage of the cash distributed to investors came from Ponzi-type activities. This is opposed to the blanket assumption of 100%.

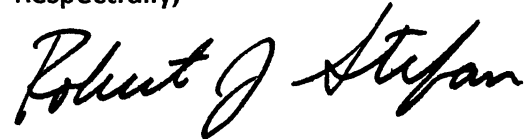

The second factor relates to the time period of Ponzi-type activities. The conclusion of the forensic accountant that there was "massive commingling" of funds does not support the argument that net investment treatment of investors and limited partners is justified for the entirety of Northridge's existence. A reconstruction of Northridge's annual aggregate cash flows should reveal if there was a specific point in time where Ponzi-type activities began. Cash received by investors and limited partners after such a point in time would be adjusted by the percentage of Ponzi-type activity discussed in the previous paragraph. Cash received by investors and limited partners before such time would not be included in the net investment calculations.

In summary, the Northridge case is not a typical Ponzi scheme in that there is, in the Receiver's assessment, substantial equity that resides in the assets of Northridge. These assets are also cash generating which makes a blanket application of "net investment" treatment for all investors and limited partners is not appropriate since its core assumption that all cash returns came from other investors is not the case. I would request that the Receiver and the forensic accountant be instructed to perform additional analysis of Northridge's aggregate finances to address these issues. Since the focus is on the aggregate cash flows the commingling of assets between the various Northridge affiliates would not be a factor and the analysis could be done without undue additional cost.

Since the Receiver filed his Motion on 8/13/20 and I desired to have these factors considered prior to your ruling, I have sent this appeal directly to you without prior consultation with the Receiver. This was only done given the shortness of time. I assure you, however, that I acknowledge the Receivers' authority, granted by the Court, and will work with and through the Receiver as my claims are processed.

Thank you for your consideration.

Respectfully,

No. 179 which was resolved consensually between the parties and the letter to the Court of Robert J. Stefan dated August 19, 2020) and any reply in support of the Motion, this Court finds that: the relief requested in the Motion is in the best interests of the Receivership Estate, potential Claimants, and all other parties; notice of the Motion was good and sufficient under the particular circumstances and that no other or further notice need be given; and based upon the record herein and after due deliberation it is hereby ORDERED THAT:

It is recommended that Claimants submit their Proof of Claim by certified or registered mail and retain evidence that the Proof of Claim was postmarked no later than the Claims Bar Date. Proofs of Claim submitted with a valid email address will receive email confirmation of receipt by the Claims Agent of the Proof of Claim.

Proofs of Claim should not be filed with this Court, or sent to the Receiver, his legal counsel, or his retained professionals. Any Proof of Claim so filed or sent shall not be considered properly submitted and will be disallowed pursuant to this Bar Date Order.

9. Procedures related to the Notice of Receiver's Initial Determination. At the Receiver's sole discretion, if the Receiver believes a Claimant (including the Investors) is entitled to an Allowed Claim Amount, the Receiver will send to such Claimant a Notice of Receiver's Initial Determination containing: (a) the proposed Allowed Claim Amount; and (b) attachment(s) containing information and/or setting forth the Receiver's calculation of the proposed Allowed Claim Amount. A Claimant who AGREES with the information and amounts in the attachments to the Notice of Receiver's Initial Determination shall check the “Agree” box on the Notice of Receiver's Initial Determination and submit to the Receiver on or before the Claims Bar Date in the same manner Proofs of Claim are to be submitted and does NOT need to submit a Proof of Claim.

10. A Claimant who DISAGREES with the proposed amount of the Allowed Claim Amount set forth in the Notice of Receiver's Initial Determination may seek to review the disagreement with the Receiver and his professionals by contacting the same through the Receivership Website (www.northridgereceiver.alixpartners.com) or telephone ((888) 369-8932) prior to responding to the Notice of Receiver’s Initial Determination. If the Receiver agrees that revisions to the Notice of Receiver’s Initial Determination should be made, the Receiver, at his sole discretion, may send an amended Notice of Receiver’s Initial Determination.

11. A Claimant who DISAGREES with the proposed amount of the Allowed Claim Amount set forth in the Notice of Receiver's Initial Determination shall check the “Disagree” box on the Notice of Receiver’s Initial Determination and submit to the Receiver on or before the Claims Bar Date in the same manner Proofs of Claim are to be submitted. Such a Claimant must timely file and properly submit a Proof of Claim. A Claimant who fails to respond to a Notice of Receiver's Initial Determination and fails to timely and properly submit a Proof of Claim shall be deemed to have accepted and consented to the proposed Allowed Claim Amount set forth in the Notice of Receiver's Initial Determination.

12. Supporting Documentation for Proof of Claim. Each submitted Proof of Claim shall include attached copies of all documents available that support such Proof of Claim. Such documentation may include, but is not limited to: copies of personal checks, cashier's checks, wire transfer advices, and other documents evidencing the investment of funds; copies of each signed investment contract; copies of all agreements, promissory notes, purchase orders, invoices, itemized statements of running accounts, contracts, court judgments, mortgages, security agreements, evidence of perfection of lien; and other documents evidencing the amount and basis of the Claim. As applicable, supporting documentation must also include a chronological accounting of any withdrawals made by or payments received from any Northridge Entity, whether such payments were denominated as the return of principal, interest, commissions, finder's fee, or otherwise, indicating the date and amount of each withdrawal or payment. If supporting documentation is not available, the Proof of Claim Form must include an attachment explaining why the documentation is unavailable.

13. Supporting Documentation That Should Not Be Submitted. Proofs of Claim should not include the following types of materials unless requested by the Receiver or the Claims Agent: (a) marketing brochures and other marketing materials received from a Northridge Entity, (b) routine or form correspondence received from an Northridge Entity, (c) copies of pleadings on file in this case or other cases related to the Receivership or the Receivership Estate, and (d) other documents received from the Receivership Estate that do not reflect specific information concerning the existence or amount of a Claim.

14. Proof of Claim May Identify Northridge Entity(ies). A Claimant who is required to submit a Proof of Claim and who reasonably believes they hold or may hold a Claim against one or more Northridge Entities may identify each Northridge Entity against which the Proof of Claim is asserted.

15. Effect of Failure to Submit Proof of Claim Before the Claims Bar Date. Any Claimant who is required to submit a Proof of Claim, but fails to do so in a timely manner or in the proper form, shall (a) be forever barred, estopped, and enjoined to the fullest extent allowed by applicable law from asserting, in any manner, any Claim against (i) any Northridge Entity, (ii)

the Receivership Estate or its assets, and (b) not receive any distribution from the Receivership Estate or have standing to object to any distribution plan proposed by the Receiver. Further, the Receiver shall have no further obligation to provide any notices on account of such Claim and the Receivership Estate shall be deemed discharged from any and all indebtedness or liability with respect to such Claim.

16. The proposed Claims Bar Date, the Notice of Claims Bar Date and Procedures for Submitting a Proof of Claim and the Proof of Claim Form are not unduly burdensome or uncommon in matters of this nature. It is important to the efficient and orderly administration of the receivership that Proofs of Claim are timely and properly submitted and that Proofs of Claim not timely or properly submitted be disallowed. Establishment of the Claims Bar Date is necessary in order for the Receiver and the court to determine which individuals and entities are entitled to share in any potential Court-approved distributions.

17. Proofs of Claim Processing and Verification, Compromise and Settlement. The Receiver is hereby authorized to employ any procedures he deems necessary, in his sole and absolute discretion to process and reconcile Proofs of Claim and to verify the Claims asserted in the Proofs of Claim. The Receiver shall have the authority to compromise and settle any Claim, or resolve any Notice of Deficiency, at any time, as appropriate, without further order of this Court. The Receiver, at his discretion, may file a motion seeking Court approval of any compromise or settlement of a Claim. All parties to this proceeding are directed to cooperate with the Receiver to the maximum extent possible to achieve swift resolution of disputes concerning claims without the need for a determination by the Court.

18. Request for Additional Information. If at any time after receiving a timely Proof of Claim, the Receiver determines that additional information is needed to assess and process a Claim, the Receiver of his Claims Agent may contact the Claimant (or counsel, if one is designated) by telephone, mail or email to request such additional information.

19. Notice of Deficiency. Prior to filing an objection with the court seeking to disallow a Claim, the Receiver may in his sole and absolute discretion send to a Claimant (and to counsel, if one is designated), to such address or email address as provided in the Proof of Claim Form, a written Notice of Deficiency that specifically identifies the information required to assess and process the Claim. Should the Receiver determine he needs additional information from anyone who was sent a Notice of Receiver's Initial Determination, the Receiver may send a Notice of Deficiency to that recipient. The Notice of Deficiency shall provide that if the additional information is not timely provided to the Receiver, such failure shall provide a basis for an objection to the Claim.

20. Receiver's Claim Objection. Claimants are directed to work in good faith with the Receiver to resolve any disputes about a Claim. If the Receiver is unable to resolve disputes about a Claim, the Receiver may file a written objection to the Claim with the Court. The objection shall include: (a) a detailed statement of the reasons for the Receiver's objection, and (b) copies of any document or other writing upon which the Receiver relies. Unless otherwise ordered by this Court, the Claimant's response to the Receiver's claim objection shall be filed with the Court and a copy served on the Receiver and his counsel, within thirty (30) calendar days of the date on which the Receiver filed his written objection to the Claim. The Receiver shall have thirty (30) calendar days to file and serve his reply.

21. Limitation on Discovery and Motion Practice. Prior to the Receiver's filing of an objection to the Claim, no discovery, motion practice, or other claims litigation shall occur unless the Claimant first seeks and obtains leave of Court, upon a showing of good cause and substantial need for such relief.

22. Consent to Jurisdiction. Submission of a Proof of Claim in this case constitutes consent to the jurisdiction of the Court for all purposes and constitutes agreement to be bound by its decisions, including, without limitation, a determination as to the extent, validity and amount of any Claim asserted against the Receivership Estate. The submission of a Proof of Claim shall constitute consent to be bound by the decisions of the Court as to the treatment of the Claim in a Court-approved distribution plan.

23. Investor Representations. With respect to Investors (as set forth in the Proof of Claim Form and the Notice of Receiver's Initial Determination), submission of a Proof of Claim in this case and any Investor who agrees with the proposed Allowed Claim Amount set forth in the Notice of Receiver's Initial Determination, shall be deemed a representation by such Investor that: (a) none of the funds Investor invested in the Receivership Entities and that Investor claims a right to recover originated from the Receivership Entities, Glenn Mueller or any of Mr. Mueller's family or any entity owned or controlled by Mr. Mueller or any of Mr. Mueller's family; (b) distribution on account of Investor's claim (if any) will not be shared in any way with Mr. Mueller, a member of Mr. Mueller's family, an entity owned or controlled by Mr. Mueller or a member of his family or in any way for the benefit of Mr. Mueller or his family; and (c) the Proof of Claim represents the full extent of the Receivership Estate's liability to the Claimant. Submission of an "Agree" response to a Notice of Initial Determination shall bind a Claimant to the similar representations contained in such "Agree" response. Notwithstanding anything else herein to the contrary, Glenn Mueller or any of Mr. Mueller's family or any entity owned or controlled by Mr. Mueller or any of Mr. Mueller's family may file a proof of claim without making the foregoing representations (a) and (b) and any such claim(s) will be subject to objection as any other claim filed against the Receivership Estate.

24. Reservation of Rights. Nothing herein shall prejudice any right of the Receiver to dispute, or assert offsets or defenses as to the extent, validity, priority, or otherwise against amounts asserted in any Proof of Claim or against the initial Allowed Claim Amount of any individual or entity who received a Notice of Receiver's Initial Determination, including but not limited to the manner in which accounts will be aggregated and Claims treated under a Court-approved distribution plan. Nothing contained herein is intended to preclude the Receiver from objecting to any Claim on any grounds. Subject to approval of the Court, the Receiver retains the sole and absolute right to propose a plan of distribution.

25. Distribution Plan. After the Claims Procedures have been substantially completed, the Receiver shall promptly file a distribution plan setting forth: (a) any proposed priority of distribution; (b) methodology of distribution (i.e., pro-rate or rising tide); (c) the proposed amounts of any initial distributions for each Claimant; (d) any disputed claims reserve; and (e) any other information that the Receiver deems necessary to include.

26. Investor Claim Calculation. The Receiver's calculation of Investor Claims on a cash-in/cash-out basis regardless of which Receivership Entity an Investor purported invested with or which Receivership Entity an Investor received a distribution from or has a claim against as proposed in the Motion, is equitable under the circumstances and hereby approved. Claims of Investors against the Receivership Entities will be allowed or disallowed on a cash-in/cash-out basis.

27. Pooling. The Claims Administration Process set forth in the Motion will provide a fair, equitable, and efficient method for distributing the proceeds of the Estate. The Receiver's pooling of the assets recovered to be distributed for the benefit of all Investors and other Claimants regardless of which Receivership Entity an Investor purportedly invested with and which a Claimant has a Claim against as proposed in the Motion is fair and equitable under the circumstances and hereby approved.

28. Preservation of Interest Claims. All claims of Investors and Claimants to interest on their Allowed Claims shall be fully preserved to the extent authorized herein. In the event the Receivership Estate has sufficient assets to pay all Investors' and Claimants' claims pursuant to a Court-approved distribution plan, the Receiver shall file a second distribution plan for Court approval which proposes a fair and equitable distribution of the remaining Receivership assets to Investors.

Stefan dated August 19, 2020) and any reply in support of the Motion, this Court finds that: the relief requested in the Motion is in the best interests of the Receivership Estate, potential Claimants, and all other parties; notice of the Motion was good and sufficient under the particular circumstances and that no other or further notice need be given; and based upon the record herein and after due deliberation it is hereby ORDERED THAT:

2. Objections Overruled. All objections not withdrawn or resolved by this Order are overruled in all respects.

3. Claims Bar Date. This Court hereby establishes 11:59 p.m. (prevailing Central Time) on ~~—~~December 18, 2020 ("Claims Bar Date"), as the deadline for Claimants and Administrative Claimants to submit a completed and signed Proof of Claim Form under penalty of perjury, together with supporting documentation against one or more of the Northridge Entities.

4. Claims Procedures. The Claims Procedures, including the Notice of Claims Bar Date and Procedures for Submitting a Proof of Claim (the "Notice of Claims Bar Date"), Proof of Claim Form, Notice of Receiver's Initial Determination, Notice of Claims Bar Date for Publication (and associated attachments) are approved substantially in the form attached to the Motion.

5. Eligibility to Submit a Proof of Claim. Except as set forth in Paragraph 6 and as to Claimants who receive and agree with the contents of the Notice of Receiver's Initial Determination of their Allowed Claim, all other Claimants and Administrative Claimants asserting or who believe they are entitled to assert a Claim or assert a right to distribution from the Receivership Estate, regardless of whether the Claim is held with or through any individual or entity or based on a primary, secondary, direct, indirect, secured, unsecured, unliquidated or contingent liability MUST timely and properly submit a Proof of Claim.

6. Professional Claims, Employee Claims and Intercompany Receivership Claims. Holders of Professional Claims will not be required to submit a Proof of Claim. The Receiver will continue to satisfy Professional Claims in the ordinary course of the Receivership and in accordance with prior or future Court orders, as appropriate to the claim or pursuant to a Court approved distribution plan. Intercompany Receivership Claims among and between the Northridge Entities are preserved without the requirement of the filing of a Proof of Claim by the Receiver at this time. Any such Intercompany Receivership Claims as appropriate will be subject to a Court approved distribution plan. Northridge Entities' employees are not required to submit a Proof of Claim for post-receivership amounts (incurred on or after September 12, 2019) incurred in the ordinary course with respect to their employment. The same such amounts shall be paid in the ordinary course of business.

- viii. potential Claimants that the Receiver has determined, upon reasonable review of the Books and Records, have or may assert a Claim against a Northridge Entity or have asserted claims against the Receivership Estate during the pendency of the SEC Enforcement Action.

c. Notice by email for returned Notice by mail. Upon return of any service item that was undeliverable by mail and without a useful forwarding address for re-service, the Receiver will perform a reasonable search of the Books and Records for a last known e-mail address and attempt to provide Notice to that Claimant or Administrative Claimant at that last known e-mail address, which shall satisfy the Receiver's notice requirements.

- d. Notice by email to Counsel. Where the Receiver has notice that a Claimant, party or other individual or entity, who is entitled to notice, is represented by counsel, copies of the documents sent by the Receiver to that counsel's client(s) will also be sent by email to counsel who have not otherwise already been sent the documents.

- f. Duty to keep the Receiver advised of current contact information. It is the responsibility of Claimants, Administrative Claimants and other interested parties to keep the Receiver apprised with a current email and mailing address in order to receive notices or other communication from the Receiver or the Receivership Estate. A link to the Change of Information Form will be found on the Claims Agent's website (www.northridgereceiver.alixpartners.com).
- g. Notice by Publication. The Receiver shall provide notice by publication in the following manner:

The publications and means chosen by the Receiver are reasonably likely to reach potential unknown Claimants and Administrative Claimants.
- h. Notice by Posting to the Receiver's Website and Email. The Receiver shall post for review and download on the Receiver's website (www.northridgereceiver.alixpartners.com), <http://www.kccllc.net/aequitasreceivership/>), this Bar Date Order, the Notice of Claims Bar Date and the Proof of Claim Form, not later than five (5) calendar days after entry of the Bar Date Order. The Receiver shall also send an "email blast" to all Investors whom the Receiver has an email address or who have otherwise signed up to receive email notice of filings on the Claims Agent Website.
- i. Notice Upon Inquiry. Copies of the Notice of Claims Bar Date and the Proof of Claim Form will be available after entry of the Bar Date Order to any Claimant or Administrative Claimant who makes a written request for such documents to the Claims Agent's mailing address: Northridge Holdings, 2807 Allen Street, Box 377, Dallas, Texas 75204

8. Procedure for Submitting a Proof of Claim. Except as otherwise provided by order of this Court or provided herein, each Claimant and Administrative Claimant must properly complete and sign a Proof of Claim which, together with supporting documentation must be timely submitted to the Receiver's Claims Agent by mail addressed to Northridge Holdings, 2807 Allen Street, Box 377, Dallas, Texas 75204, such that if sent by mail is postmarked no later than the Claims Bar Date.

It is recommended that Claimants submit their Proof of Claim by certified or registered mail and retain evidence that the Proof of Claim was postmarked no later than the Claims Bar Date. Proofs of Claim submitted with a valid email address will receive email confirmation of receipt by the Claims Agent of the Proof of Claim.

Proofs of Claim should not be filed with this Court, or sent to the Receiver, his legal counsel, or his retained professionals. Any Proof of Claim so filed or sent shall not be considered properly submitted and will be disallowed pursuant to this Bar Date Order.

9. Procedures related to the Notice of Receiver's Initial Determination. At the Receiver's sole discretion, if the Receiver believes a Claimant (including the Investors) is entitled to an Allowed Claim Amount, the Receiver will send to such Claimant a Notice of Receiver's Initial Determination containing: (a) the proposed Allowed Claim Amount; and (b) attachment(s) containing information and/or setting forth the Receiver's calculation of the proposed Allowed Claim Amount. A Claimant who AGREES with the information and amounts in the attachments to the Notice of Receiver's Initial Determination shall check the "Agree" box on the Notice of Receiver's Initial Determination and submit to the Receiver on or before the Claims Bar Date in the same manner Proofs of Claim are to be submitted and does NOT need to submit a Proof of Claim.

10. A Claimant who DISAGREES with the proposed amount of the Allowed Claim Amount set forth in the Notice of Receiver's Initial Determination may seek to review the disagreement with the Receiver and his professionals by contacting the same through the Receivership Website (www.northridgereceiver.alixpartners.com) or telephone ((888) 369-8932) prior to responding to the Notice of Receiver's Initial Determination. If the Receiver agrees that revisions to the Notice of Receiver's Initial Determination should be made, the Receiver, at his sole discretion, may send an amended Notice of Receiver's Initial Determination.

11. A Claimant who DISAGREES with the proposed amount of the Allowed Claim Amount set forth in the Notice of Receiver's Initial Determination shall check the "Disagree" box on the Notice of Receiver's Initial Determination and submit to the Receiver on or before the Claims Bar Date in the same manner Proofs of Claim are to be submitted. Such a Claimant must timely file and properly submit a Proof of Claim. A Claimant who fails to respond to a Notice of Receiver's Initial Determination and fails to timely and properly submit a Proof of Claim shall be deemed to have accepted and consented to the proposed Allowed Claim Amount set forth in the Notice of Receiver's Initial Determination.

12. Supporting Documentation for Proof of Claim. Each submitted Proof of Claim shall include attached copies of all documents available that support such Proof of Claim. Such documentation may include, but is not limited to: copies of personal checks, cashier's checks, wire transfer advices, and other documents evidencing the investment of funds; copies of each signed investment contract; copies of all agreements, promissory notes, purchase orders, invoices, itemized statements of running accounts, contracts, court judgments, mortgages, security agreements, evidence of perfection of lien; and other documents evidencing the amount and basis of the Claim. As applicable, supporting documentation must also include a chronological accounting of any withdrawals made by or payments received from any Northridge Entity, whether such payments were denominated as the return of principal, interest, commissions, finder's fee, or otherwise, indicating the date and amount of each withdrawal or payment. If supporting documentation is not available, the Proof of Claim Form must include an attachment explaining why the documentation is unavailable.

13. Supporting Documentation That Should Not Be Submitted. Proofs of Claim should not include the following types of materials unless requested by the Receiver or the Claims Agent: (a) marketing brochures and other marketing materials received from a Northridge Entity, (b) routine or form correspondence received from a Northridge Entity, (c) copies of pleadings on file in this case or other cases related to the Receivership or the Receivership Estate, and (d) other documents received from the Receivership Estate that do not reflect specific information concerning the existence or amount of a Claim.

14. Proof of Claim May Identify Northridge Entity(ies). A Claimant who is required to submit a Proof of Claim and who reasonably believes they hold or may hold a Claim against one or more Northridge Entities may identify each Northridge Entity against which the Proof of Claim is asserted.

15. Effect of Failure to Submit Proof of Claim Before the Claims Bar Date. Any Claimant who is required to submit a Proof of Claim, but fails to do so in a timely manner or in the proper form, shall (a) be forever barred, estopped, and enjoined to the fullest extent allowed by applicable law from asserting, in any manner, any Claim against (i) any Northridge Entity, (ii) the Receivership Estate or its assets, and (b) not receive any distribution from the Receivership Estate or have standing to object to any distribution plan proposed by the Receiver. Further, the Receiver shall have no further obligation to provide any notices on account of such Claim and the Receivership Estate shall be deemed discharged from any and all indebtedness or liability with respect to such Claim.

16. The proposed Claims Bar Date, the Notice of Claims Bar Date and Procedures for Submitting a Proof of Claim and the Proof of Claim Form are not unduly burdensome or uncommon in matters of this nature. It is important to the efficient and orderly administration of the receivership that Proofs of Claim are timely and properly submitted and that Proofs of Claim not timely or properly submitted be disallowed. Establishment of the Claims Bar Date is necessary in order for the Receiver and the court to determine which individuals and entities are entitled to share in any potential Court-approved distributions.

17. Proofs of Claim Processing and Verification, Compromise and Settlement. The Receiver is hereby authorized to employ any procedures he deems necessary, in his sole and absolute discretion to process and reconcile Proofs of Claim and to verify the Claims asserted in the Proofs of Claim. The Receiver shall have the authority to compromise and settle any Claim, or resolve any Notice of Deficiency, at any time, as appropriate, without further order of this Court. The Receiver, at his discretion, may file a motion seeking Court approval of any compromise or settlement of a Claim. All parties to this proceeding are directed to cooperate with the Receiver to the maximum extent possible to achieve swift resolution of disputes concerning claims without the need for a determination by the Court.

18. Request for Additional Information. If at any time after receiving a timely Proof of Claim, the Receiver determines that additional information is needed to assess and process a Claim, the Receiver of his Claims Agent may contact the Claimant (or counsel, if one is designated) by telephone, mail or email to request such additional information.

19. Notice of Deficiency. Prior to filing an objection with the court seeking to disallow a Claim, the Receiver may in his sole and absolute discretion send to a Claimant (and to counsel, if one is designated), to such address or email address as provided in the Proof of Claim Form, a written Notice of Deficiency that specifically identifies the information required to assess and process the Claim. Should the Receiver determine he needs additional information from anyone who was sent a Notice of Receiver's Initial Determination, the Receiver may send a Notice of Deficiency to that recipient. The Notice of Deficiency shall provide that if the additional information is not timely provided to the Receiver, such failure shall provide a basis for an objection to the Claim.

20. Receiver's Claim Objection. Claimants are directed to work in good faith with the Receiver to resolve any disputes about a Claim. If the Receiver is unable to resolve disputes about a Claim, the Receiver may file a written objection to the Claim with the Court. The objection shall include: (a) a detailed statement of the reasons for the Receiver's objection, and (b) copies of any document or other writing upon which the Receiver relies. Unless otherwise ordered by this Court, the Claimant's response to the Receiver's claim objection shall be filed with the Court and a copy served on the Receiver and his counsel, within thirty (30) calendar days of the date on which the Receiver filed his written objection to the Claim. The Receiver shall have thirty (30) calendar days to file and serve his reply.

21. Limitation on Discovery and Motion Practice. Prior to the Receiver's filing of an objection to the Claim, no discovery, motion practice, or other claims litigation shall occur unless the Claimant first seeks and obtains leave of Court, upon a showing of good cause and substantial need for such relief.

22. Consent to Jurisdiction. Submission of a Proof of Claim in this case constitutes consent to the jurisdiction of the Court for all purposes and constitutes agreement to be bound by its decisions, including, without limitation, a determination as to the extent, validity and amount of any Claim asserted against the Receivership Estate. The submission of a Proof of Claim shall constitute consent to be bound by the decisions of the Court as to the treatment of the Claim in a Court-approved distribution plan.

23. Investor Representations. With respect to Investors (as set forth in the Proof of Claim Form and the Notice of Receiver's Initial Determination), submission of a Proof of Claim in this case and any Investor who agrees with the proposed Allowed Claim Amount set forth in the Notice of Receiver's Initial Determination, shall be deemed a representation by such Investor that: (a) none of the funds Investor invested in the Receivership Entities and that Investor claims a right to recover originated from the Receivership Entities, Glenn Mueller or any of Mr. Mueller's family or any entity owned or controlled by Mr. Mueller or any of Mr. Mueller's family; (b) distribution on account of Investor's claim (if any) will not be shared in any way with Mr. Mueller, a member of Mr. Mueller's family, an entity owned or controlled by Mr. Mueller or a member of his family or in any way for the benefit of Mr. Mueller or his family; and (c) the Proof of Claim represents the full extent of the Receivership Estate's liability to the Claimant. Submission of an "Agree" response to a Notice of Initial Determination shall bind a Claimant to the similar representations contained in such "Agree" response. Notwithstanding anything else herein to the contrary, Glenn Mueller or any of Mr. Mueller's family or any entity owned or controlled by Mr. Mueller or any of Mr. Mueller's family may file a proof of claim without making the foregoing representations (a) and (b) and any such claim(s) will be subject to objection as any other claim filed against the Receivership Estate.

24. Reservation of Rights. Nothing herein shall prejudice any right of the Receiver to dispute, or assert offsets or defenses as to the extent, validity, priority, or otherwise against amounts asserted in any Proof of Claim or against the initial Allowed Claim Amount of any individual or entity who received a Notice of Receiver's Initial Determination, including but not limited to the manner in which accounts will be aggregated and Claims treated under a Court-approved distribution plan. Nothing contained herein is intended to preclude the Receiver from objecting to any Claim on any grounds. Subject to approval of the Court, the Receiver retains the sole and absolute right to propose a plan of distribution.

25. Distribution Plan. After the Claims Procedures have been substantially completed, the Receiver shall promptly file a distribution plan setting forth: (a) any proposed priority of distribution; (b) methodology of distribution (i.e., pro-rate or rising tide); (c) the proposed amounts of any initial distributions for each Claimant; (d) any disputed claims reserve; and (e) any other information that the Receiver deems necessary to include.

26. Investor Claim Calculation. The Receiver's calculation of Investor Claims on a cash-in/cash-out basis regardless of which Receivership Entity an Investor purported invested with or which Receivership Entity an Investor received a distribution from or has a claim against as proposed in the Motion, is equitable under the circumstances and hereby approved. Claims of Investors against the Receivership Entities will be allowed or disallowed on a cash-in/cash-out basis.

27. Pooling. The Claims Administration Process set forth in the Motion will provide a fair, equitable, and efficient method for distributing the proceeds of the Estate. The Receiver's pooling of the assets recovered to be distributed for the benefit of all Investors and other Claimants regardless of which Receivership Entity an Investor purportedly invested with and which a Claimant has a Claim against as proposed in the Motion is fair and equitable under the circumstances and hereby approved.

28. Preservation of Interest Claims. All claims of Investors and Claimants to interest on their Allowed Claims shall be fully preserved to the extent authorized herein. In the event the Receivership Estate has sufficient assets to pay all Investors' and Claimants' claims pursuant to a Court-approved distribution plan, the Receiver shall file a second distribution plan for Court approval which proposes a fair and equitable distribution of the remaining Receivership assets to Investors.
